"Educate India" INDIA Redefined Project

"I donate" 6 months of my life in training or education"

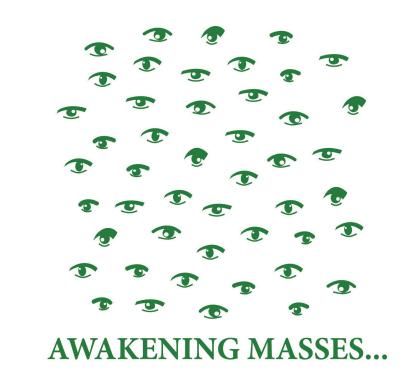

An Appeal from Team INDIA Redefined -Be with Best Humanitarian Initiative 2009 award winner

INDIA Redefined, A Non Political Citizens Empowerment Movement as "Educate India" Coordinators who will be taking the oath from Educated People -"I donate" 6 months of my life in training or education, for those who are underprivileged.

" Many youth, studying in colleges wanted to implement this. Students who are willing to be part of this movement will be taking the oath- "I donate" 6 months of my life in training or education, for those who are underprivileged. Students are trying to find some School or College of their interest or same subjects, which are either Municipal Schools or Govt schools or where there is lack of good teachers within 40 KM area in radius, where they can reach. They are trying to find the details of how many students are studying there and how many teachers are there. The facts about that place and find a way to get appointment as a teacher or faculty there. If Students take this oath keep this promise then with those Students as a faculty- their Knowledge, English, and many other things will be shared with underpriviledged Students.In India, education is supposed to be the great equalizer and the primary vehicle for upward mobility. But, the reality today is that all too often, where children are born determines their educational prospects. Across the country, largest number of children living in poverty have academic and, therefore, life prospects that are dramatically different than those of their peers in wealthier communities. Mission is to build the movement to eliminate educational inequity (in terms of quality of education) by enlisting our nation's most promising future leaders in the effort. "I donate" will help in recruiting outstanding college graduate from all backgrounds and career interests to commit to teach for 6 months in urban and rural schools for underprivileged during or immediately after their ifelNDIA Redefined needs Students Coordinators of Educate India in different Universities. INDIA Redefined isasking for Individual Social Responsibility (ISR )of Common People by Donating their TIME he reality today is that all too often, where children are born determines... their educational educational prospects. Across the country, largest number of children living in poverty have academic and, there dramatically different than those of their peers in wealthier communities. Mission is to build the movement to eliminate educational inequity (in terms of quality of education) by enlisting our nation's most promising future leaders in the effort. "I donate" will help in recruiting outstanding college graduates from all backgrounds and career interests to commit to teach for 6 months in urban and rural

www.indiaredefined.org

E-mail: contact@indiaredefined.org

schools for underprivileged during or immediately after their student life.

"Lets aim to make more Doers than Beneficiaries"