INDIA Redefined has created many Responsible and Empowered Citizens. And still needs many more in leadership roles for creating a Happy India. INDIA Redefined is a vision created by ordinary people like you and me who understood this simple concept of making a difference in the lives of others and our Indian society by bringing in a fourth sector – to harness the power of the people.

Internship Process

During the two months of your internship for the selected activity, the first month will be contributed for the required research work and the actual implementation of the activity will take place in the second month based upon the ground work done in the first month.

Online research should be on main line of activity chosen from 12 activities and next month event can be on one or more sub activity, chosen from the list.

After the selection of the activity to work on, the following pattern would be followed during the internship -

Internship Pattern for Individual Internship

First Month (Research)	Second Month (Implementation)
Create a database of all the Ngo's working for the same cause in India (state wise according to pin code); and also globally (country- state- pin code)	Perform the activity in the desired location based upon the plan made during the first month
Make a selection of the districts to perform the activity	The activity would be conducted as a series of sub events in a sequential manner
Document the funding facilities available in India and abroad for the selected activity	Sub Event1
Create a list of all the individual entities related with the activity like institutional faculty, social activists etc.	Sub Event2
Record the government agencies contribute to the same cause of the activity.	Sub Event3....
Make a PowerPoint presentation regarding the activity and the sub events planned for the execution of the activity.	The sub events will be conducted in coherence to the information about the local community
Make PowerPoint presentation regarding all the data collected through the above mentioned sequence concerning the various individual, corporate and state entities and also about other PowerPoint available on the internet.	The events need to be conducted under the India Redefined Banner
